and just — like a wat - er ha - by, ha - by —

born — to float,

and if life is a wild wind that blows way on high and your heart is A-mel-lia dy-ing to fly

Hea-ven knows, no frontiers and I've seen hea-ven in your eyes

And if life— is a bar - room— in which we— must wait,— (Verse 2 see block lyric)

round the man— with his fing - ers on the iv - or - y— gate,— where we sing— un - til dawn— of our fears and— our fate—and we stack— all the dead— men in self ad - dressed crates— in— your—eyes. Fate as the sing-ing of a lark that some-how this black night feels warm-er for their spark warm-er for their spark to hold us till the day when fear will loose its grip

Verse 2:

And if life is a rough bed of brambles and nails
 And your spirit's slave to man's whips and man's jails
 Where you thirst and you hunger for justice and right
 And your heart is a pure flame of man's constant night.

In your eyes etc.
